Final Project

My three most significant features are the pseudo-selectors, animations, and a carousel. The pseudo-selectors are found in the circular picture of me in the home page as well as in the headers of the Japan, Bahamas, Taiwan, and Fun Facts page. The purpose of this is to allow the user to know that those items are able to be clicked and can take you to a new page. The animations are found in the three flags on the homepage and also serve a similar purpose to the pseudo-selectors. They entice the user and allow them to know that it is able to be clicked. It's as if the flags are saying "choose me!" The carousel is found in the fun facts page and is used to display all three of my fun facts. It allows for the user to focus on one fun fact at a time in an interactive manner.
